

'FRUIT CD'

Let's clarify that the 'Fruit CD' set is made up of 6 titles and not 8 as it is often confused; the correct titles are as follows (in alphabetical order):

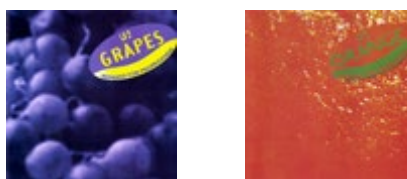

This six titles have common characteristics which, in addition to determining the correct set, identify the first release from the reprints. Here are the details:

1. Back cover without barcode
2. On back cover 'Polygram' spelled incorrectly: 'Poligram'
3. The picture inside the front folding cover shows Bono with microphone, raised hand on left direction and various colored background (here an example):

4. The picture CD similarly shows the picture on the reverse of back cover
5. The CD matrix shows the full title followed by 'CD'. ('titleCD' or 'title CD')

Instead both titles below are (improperly) attributed to 'FRUITCD' set, released after the first 6 titles above with these different peculiarities which, with no doubt, identifies the different manufacturing:

1. Back cover shows barcode
2. 'Polygram' spelled correctly
3. Different picture inside the front folding cover
4. Back cover with white reverse
5. The CD matrix doesn't show the full title